CHIEF MINISTER'S WELCOME

Andrew Barr MLA
ACT Chief Minister

Canberra continues to be a globally connected city and a thriving destination for events – one that stands at the forefront of knowledge, innovation and sustainability.

Hosting your business event in Australia's knowledge capital provides unparalleled access to decision-makers and thought leaders, supported by nation-leading research and academic institutions, a vibrant innovation ecosystem, and strengths in industry sectors driving Australia's future.

Like our population and economy, Canberra's international credentials continue to grow. In 2025, Canberra proudly hosted multiple major international conferences, cementing our position on the world stage and building strong momentum into 2026. The return of Qatar Airways flights in December further enhanced Canberra's global accessibility, reconnecting us to key long-haul markets.

As a city, we are inclusive, welcoming, and committed to innovation and sustainability. Having been recognised as the most sustainable and liveable city in the world, we remain a leader both nationally and internationally. This recognition underpins Canberra's prosperity – we are a growing city where a healthier, smarter future is possible.

Canberra knows how to balance work and life. After a productive day, delegates can explore a city nestled in nature with space to breathe, reflect and connect. Exceptional food and beverage offerings celebrate the diversity of our region; world-class museums and galleries share the stories that shape our nation.

Canberra is the place to discuss the big issues, forge impactful connections and create new opportunities. It is Australia's meeting place, and we look forward to welcoming you, and the world, in 2026.

OFFICIAL WELCOME

Michael Matthews
Chief Executive Officer
Canberra Convention Bureau

Canberra is the meeting place of the nation. A diverse city filled with pioneering thinkers and artists, cutting-edge researchers, Nobel Prize winners and business leaders that all call our dynamic city home. It is this mix of fascinating people and the intersection of knowledge, culture and influence that makes our city one of the most liveable and interesting cities in Australia.

The incredible Ouroboros – featured in this 2026 Meeting Planners Guide – is a remarkable interactive experience for day or night. It is just one of the sculptures at the National Gallery of Australia that is available for all Australians to behold and explore. This gives you an insight into the breadth of one-of-a-kind venues that can be found here in our capital city, and what truly sets Canberra apart from the rest.

Canberra's reputation as Australia's knowledge capital is continually forged by THINK Canberra and RALIG (Research and Learning Institute Group), who can connect your events with the thought leaders of global leading institutions. Our community of business event experts take pride in working collaboratively to deliver on your priorities across our unique venues – all in an inviting city where planners and delegates can simply achieve more in their programs.

Our progressive capital and planned and accessible city is a destination worth exploring. With the help of the Canberra Convention Bureau team, you can design an event program that will inform, entertain, inspire and impress. Your national capital is justifiably a world city, and we look forward to sharing it with you.

MEET AMONG THE NATION'S TREASURES

For business event planners, Australia's national institutions offer more than striking settings – they deliver immersive, thought-provoking experiences that connect delegates with the Australian story and inspire meaningful conversation.

When approaching the National Gallery of Australia, visitors are immediately drawn to Ouroboros – a monumental 13-tonne sculpture by Australian artist Lindy Lee AO, which is set within a 240-square-metre reflecting pool in the Gallery's Sculpture Garden. A walkway leads into the sculpture's 'mouth', where shifting light, shadow and sky play across its perforated, polished and mirrored surface. The work is a major drawcard, captivating guests with its interplay of reflection, movement and form.

Lindy Lee AO explains, 'This work is about the cosmos – the open sky that we all belong to – and when you enter Ouroboros, I want you to feel something – a deep connection to something which is much larger than any of us as individuals.'

At the Gallery, you can experience an unforgettable evening of art and fine dining with the Feast of Icons. Begin with drinks and canapés at dusk before a guided visit to Ouroboros to explore its cultural connections between Chinese philosophy, First Nations culture and the symbolism of the Rainbow Serpent. As day fades to night, the experience continues at James Turrell's Within Without Skyspace, where you can witness how the chamber reframes our perception of the sky. The night concludes with a three-course dinner featuring seasonal local produce and matched wines on the terrace, overlooking the Australian Garden.

These sculptural experiences set the stage for the Gallery's National Sculpture Garden project, due to transform one of Canberra's most significant outdoor spaces into a dynamic venue for cultural and corporate events. Enhanced landscaping, improved accessibility and new integrated art experiences will offer event planners a setting where natural beauty meets world-class sculpture. Delivered in stages over the coming years, the project honours the Sculpture Garden's original design and heritage while embracing sustainability and First Nations principles.

National Gallery of Australia Director, Dr Nick Mitzevich, comments, 'The National Sculpture Garden is a major part of the National Gallery identity and a treasured site for many of our visitors. We are launching this major project to revitalise and bring the garden into the 21st century.'

A significant addition will be a permanent stainless steel and glass pavilion that will create a new space for exhibitions, events and education programs. A new dining space will open in 2026 within the Gallery foyer, extending to the Australian Garden terrace, while the former dining outlet will become available for hire, providing a new bookable private event space. Trippas White Group, the National Gallery's events and catering partner, can tailor experiences for any event, including exclusive tours for guests to enjoy the collection, exhibitions and the National Sculpture Garden.

From gala dinners amidst iconic works of art to strategy sessions overlooking Parliament House, Canberra's institutions offer an atmosphere of purpose and place found nowhere else. Each provides a unique perspective on the nation – science and innovation at Questacon, democratic ideals at the Museum of Australian Democracy, cultural storytelling at the National Museum of Australia, and the spirit of achievement at the Australian War Memorial. The National Gallery of Australia presents Australia's artistic story from the world's largest collection of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander art to contemporary works that illuminate how we see and interpret our world today.

WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY

Canberra Convention Bureau is here to partner with you when you are planning your next conference or business event. By tapping into our professional expertise and in-depth local knowledge, you can create inspiring, innovative and engaging conferences in the nation’s capital – just like some of our past clients.

With 70% of Canberra and the ACT made up of nature reserves and parkland, the capital was a natural fit for the 2025 Outdoor Industry Summit, hosted by Outdoors NSW & ACT. Over a four-day program, delegates from across Australia and overseas gathered for professional exchange, collaboration and connection.

Embracing Canberra’s great outdoors, the program included site visits to Outward Bound Australia, Birrigai Outdoor School, Tidbinbilla and Stromlo Forest Park.

‘Canberra was a great destination for our 2025 Summit – it’s so accessible, and our national audience grew. Delegates were delighted and have asked for it to return to Canberra.’
Lori Modde, CEO, Outdoors NSW & ACT

Mathematics Education Research Group of Australia (MERGA) worked with the Canberra Convention Bureau for their Unlocking Minds in Mathematics Education 2025 Conference.

‘Firstly, I am indebted to the Canberra Convention Bureau for all the work they undertook in the early stages of the conference organisation. The collation of quotes for the conference dinner and accommodation options and discounts for participants saved our local organising committee so much time. Overall, the conference was a success, with many participants rating it one of the best in the last five years and one of the biggest conferences MERGA has ever hosted.’

The Australian National University (ANU) worked with Canberra Convention Bureau for their Scientific Detector Workshop 2025. The ANU brought scientists and engineers together from all over the world in the fields of astronomy and earth sciences, with specialties in advanced imaging sensors used in scientific instrumentation.

‘The delegates really enjoyed their time in Canberra. One of the major strengths of Canberra is the proximity of venues. We were able to get people from venue to venue in very little time and we got a lot done without any logistical problems.
The benefit to us of having the workshop in Canberra is two-fold. First, it brings visibility to what we do and creates avenues for partnerships. The second is that we are always happy to hire international talent and this was a good way for us to look for potential hires. It was a great experience to host a variety of industry and research leaders at ANU and I would encourage others to use Canberra as a venue as it has the right balance of convenience and approachable activities.’
Associate Professor Tony Travouillon, Advanced Instrumentation Technology Centre, College of Science, Australian National University

‘Canberra is a surprising treasure trove of event spaces, within a stone’s throw from the CBD. I was surprised at the number of different options, from heritage hotels to super funky venues and museums that transform after dark. The Bureau’s attentive service and local insights made our stay comfortable and memorable. Thank you!’
Katie Tomkins, Events Director, Iceberg Events, Queensland
‘Canberra is such a diverse and culturally rich destination for business events, conference and incentives. The stories to be unravelled during a visit are interesting and make you proud to be an Australian and have a wonderful place like Canberra as our capital. There are many different options for business events to consider when it comes to venues and experiences for all size groups, and travelling between locations is quick and easy, making it a great option to include many offsite attractions within your event program.’
Monique Cooper, Director, Gener8 Events, Victoria

A large, complex lighting rig hangs from the ceiling, casting beams of light across the stage and audience. In the foreground, several people are seated at round tables, facing the stage. The audience is dressed in formal attire. The stage features a large, illuminated backdrop with the word "ore" and "NATIONAL CONVENTION CENTRE Canberra" visible. The overall atmosphere is dynamic and professional.

A GREENER DESTINATION

When you hold your business event in Canberra, you are also showcasing your commitment to a more sustainable future. The nation's capital is not only a highly liveable city, it is globally recognised as one of the most sustainable in the world. The Australian Capital Territory (ACT) continues to deliver one of the most ambitious climate action agendas in the world. Here are just some of the ways Canberra is contributing to a future that's genuinely sustainable.

TAP INTO OUR ENERGY

Since 2020, the ACT has been powered entirely by renewable electricity generated from wind and solar sources, making it the first city outside Europe – and the eighth in the world – to achieve this milestone. The ACT is also aiming to achieve net-zero emissions by 2045. Canberra boasts Australia's first testing facility for replacing natural gas with hydrogen and is home to the country's largest community-owned solar farm. The Big Canberra Battery project will enhance energy security across the electricity grid. This includes installing solar batteries in multiple government buildings, three community batteries across the ACT, and constructing a grid-scale battery with a capacity of 500 MWh, enough to power 23,400 households on a single charge.

WATCH THIS GREEN SPACE

Canberra is a modern, well-planned and green city, with nature never too far away. In fact, you'll find around 70% of the Territory is open space, parkland or nature reserve. And don't be surprised to see some of the native wildlife right in the heart of town.

GETTING AROUND

A smaller and well-connected city means it's easy to get around. The expanding light rail network is completely powered by renewable electricity. Canberra has one of the largest electric bus depots, supporting over 100 buses. The extensive bike path network makes it easy to reduce your carbon footprint using electric scooters and bikes or taking a walk. Canberra also has the highest number of electric vehicle charge stations per capita in Australia and was the first to have a public green hydrogen refuelling station for hydrogen vehicles.

OUR CLEAN AIR

Situated at a higher altitude near the mountains, Canberra benefits from cleaner air due to improved circulation and minimal pollution. As a meticulously planned city with more green spaces than concrete developments, it boasts air quality that is well above average for a capital city. Local government provides incentives to residents to further reduce air pollution by replacing wood heaters with electric and legislating against gas appliances in new builds.

WASTE NOT

Canberra is aiming to become a circular city and is upgrading infrastructure to sort and process everything from food scraps to construction waste. Unnecessary single-use plastics are being phased out, and the Container Deposit Scheme (for cans and bottles) is being expanded.

GREEN CONFERENCING AND EVENTS

Canberra is well set up and experienced in running events with a reduced carbon footprint. If arriving by air, you'll land at the award-winning Canberra International Airport, one of the first in the world to install tri-generation plants, cutting carbon emissions by 75%. Local government provides incentives for sustainable practices through initiatives like the Sustainable Event program, which helps organisers reduce waste by providing free signage, equipment and advice. Canberra is home to many academic and innovative institutions that can provide your conference with speakers and experts on sustainability.

SUSTAINABILITY CERTIFICATION

In Australia, sustainability certification options for the tourism industry include programs such as Ecotourism Australia's ECO Certification and EarthCheck Certified, which assess environmental, cultural and operational sustainability practices to promote eco-friendly tourism.

ACCESSIBLE EVENTS

It has been estimated that one in five people have accessibility needs, so we understand how important it is to consider accessibility when planning an event.

Canberra is a thoughtfully planned city with a variety of highly accessible venues. With minimal traffic issues, wide streets, transit lanes, bike paths and its iconic roundabouts, it's an easy place to navigate. Many venues, such as Australia's national institutions, are designed with features like ramps, wider parking spaces, audio tours and braille pads, ensuring they are accessible for people with limited mobility, as well as those with sight or hearing impairments.

For some interesting experiences, there is wheelchair basketball at the Australian Institute of Sport (AIS), the sparkling interaction of Questacon and the delightful sights, smells and sounds of the National Zoo and Aquarium and the Australian National Botanic Gardens. Tours can be tailored specifically to the needs of groups or individuals, with various mobility vehicles available for hire at each venue.

Through the Australian Tourism Industry Council (ATIC), the Accessible Tourism program provides certification to tourism businesses that meet criteria for supporting low vision, wheelchairs and scooters, low hearing, limited mobility, and cognitive or autism-related needs.

The historic Sydney and Melbourne buildings are alive with dining and bar options, with plenty of shopping and entertainment on offer nearby. Venture a few minutes west and you'll find the hotels, eateries, art and architecture of the NewActon precinct.

NATIONAL TRIANGLE

Discover Canberra's National Triangle, where the iconic Australian Parliament House is the centrepiece. Visitors can also enjoy the nation's popular museums, galleries and major institutions, admiring the distinctive architecture before indulging in exceptional dining experiences. All just steps from Lake Burley Griffin and nearby hotels.

BRADDON

Right on the edge of the CBD, Braddon is the place to go for hip cafes, a range of dining options, lively bars and boutique shops. Try a cosy tippie at Midnight Bar, smooth bourbons combining the American south-west with Canberra charm at Peacemaker Saloon, or a sleek Asian-style BBQ at Wilma.

KINGSTON AND MANUKA

These inner south precincts feature established trees and beautiful older buildings which sit harmoniously alongside modern precincts. Catch a match at Corroboree Group Oval Manuka, followed by a meal in Barton or Kingston. Browse the boutiques of Manuka, watch glass-blowing at the Canberra Glassworks, board a Love Boat for a twilight trip before a bite at Kingston Foreshore.

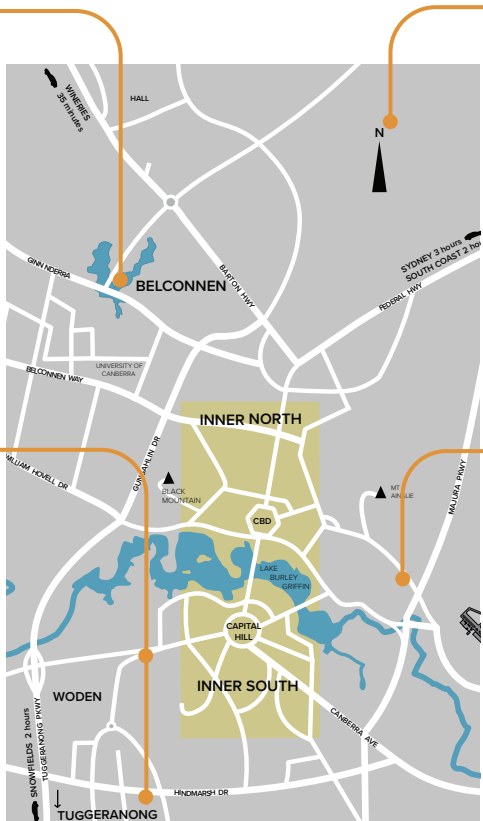

BELCONNEN

Just 10 minutes north-west of the city, Belconnen is home to the University of Canberra, GIO Stadium and the Australian Institute of Sport. Rooftop conference venue 59 Cameron Avenue offers sweeping views of Black Mountain and Lake Ginninderra with nearby options to shop, eat or enjoy the exciting arts program at Belconnen Arts Centre situated on the lakefront.

WODEN AND TUGGERANONG

Ten minutes south of the CBD, the town centre of Woden has been revitalised in recent years, with more residential apartments, health services and offices, an enhanced shopping centre and more dining options. # CANBERRA THROUGH THE SEASONS

From the red and amber leaves that blanket the city in autumn, to the bright pops of colour as the blooms emerge in spring, Canberra enjoys four distinct seasons. And no matter when you visit, there’s always something wonderful to discover.

AUTUMN

As the leaves turn and the temperature drops, Canberra’s mountain range, lake and expansive nature reserves provide a spectacular backdrop to immerse oneself in autumn. The city rises early and looks to the skies for the Canberra Balloon Spectacular and then stays up late to watch the national institutions illuminated for Enlighten.

Autumn is the perfect time to visit one of Canberra region’s 140 cool climate vineyards, either just for a taste to discover a new favourite, or to indulge in one of the winery restaurants where you can settle in for a feast of local produce.

WINTER

While the mornings may be frosty, winter in Canberra tends to have crystal clear skies and beautiful days. Head to the National Arboretum Canberra for spectacular views and explore forest trees wrapped in bright scarves for the season. Watch a game of rugby or NRL, browse an art exhibition or head to the Canberra Glassworks to observe or try glassblowing.

You can also indulge at the Truffle Festival – either enjoy the tasty morsels in dishes around town or head to a nearby truffle farm and follow a truffle dog on a hunt. For some snow play, Corin Forest is only a one-hour drive from Canberra.

SPRING

When spring has sprung, the place to be in Canberra is Commonwealth Park, where more than one million flowers bloom in unison for the month-long Floriade, Australia’s biggest celebration of spring.

With the weather warming up, it’s a great time to get outdoors. Take your picnic out to Lake Burley Griffin with a self-drive Love Boat or slow things down by renting a pedal boat followed by lunch with a view at The Marion. Simply take a walk around the lake or drive out to the ACT’s picturesque national parks for many hiking opportunities.

SUMMER

The summer months in Canberra are best enjoyed outdoors, whether it’s watching the cricket at Corroboree Group Oval Manuka, getting amongst it at the various festivals and events or enjoying the long days and balmy conditions at an outdoor bar or restaurant.

The temperatures tend to stay quite pleasant, but if you’re looking to cool down, the national institutions and art galleries always have an exciting program this time of year. After taking in an exhibition or at the end of a conference day, why not wind down lakeside at The Jetty or The Boathouse.

CULTURE THAT CONNECTS

Canberra’s cultural offering brings Australia’s stories and creative pulse to life in unforgettable ways. Visitors can enjoy immersive experiences such as the National Gallery of Australia’s ‘Feast of Icons’, where sculpture and storytelling collide, or feel the emotional resonance of The Last Post ceremony at the Australian War Memorial. Try one of the Indigenous experiences at the National Arboretum Canberra or opt for an intimate floor talk with a curator at the National Portrait Gallery.

FRESH PERSPECTIVES

Gain a fresh vantage point on the capital with experiences that lift spirits and perspectives. Float over Lake Burley Griffin at sunrise in a hot air balloon or visit during the Canberra Balloon Spectacular for a breathtaking display. Try kite making and fly your creation at the National Arboretum Canberra or stargaze with expert guides at Mount Stromlo Observatory. ### LEARN BY DOING

Canberra invites hands-on exploration across its signature cultural institutions. Spark curiosity at Questacon with immersive science experiences, or dive into Australia’s social history at the National Museum of Australia. Watch currency take shape at the Royal Australian Mint or witness democracy in action during Question Time at Parliament House. Delegates can dress up and explore political storytelling at the Museum of Australian Democracy, then deepen understanding of women in politics with a tailored She Shapes History tour – an experience that’s insightful, lively and genuinely memorable.

CULINARY ENCOUNTERS

The Canberra region is a haven for food lovers, offering premium produce, boutique makers and memorable culinary encounters. Delegates can tour more than 40 cool climate wineries in the region, savour truffles freshly hunted just minutes from the CBD or enjoy behind-the-scenes access at Parliament House with a chef-led soufflé demonstration. Hands-on options include gnocchi-making workshops as well as cellar-door tastings at Pialligo Estate and Contentious Character, only minutes from the CBD. Add distillery tours or cocktail classes to elevate networking opportunities with flavour and flair.

MOVE AND RESTORE

Canberra’s natural landscape encourages fresh air activity and invigorating movement. With more than 20 scenic walks and trails, delegates can enjoy outdoor time that suits all fitness levels. Join a charity run around Lake Burley Griffin, hit championship golf courses at Royal Canberra or Federal Golf Club accompanied by grazing kangaroos, or head less than an hour out of town for snow play in winter.

AUSTRALIAN WILDLIFE CLOSE-UP

Canberra offers unforgettable wildlife moments that bring delegates closer to Australia’s unique fauna. Visit the National Zoo & Aquarium for private tours or animal encounters or explore Wildbark for twilight adventures and close-up learning. Join Canberra Guided Tours at Tidbinbilla to meet kangaroos and koalas in their natural habitats. Even within the city, kangaroos graze in parks, and cockatoos and rosellas fill the skyline, creating an accessible and authentic wildlife experience that feels both distinctly Australian and wonderfully personal.

LAKESIDE AND WATER ACTIVITIES

From tranquil lake moments to invigorating group challenges, Canberra’s waterways deliver variety and fun. Delegates can take a self-drive Love Boat from the Kingston Foreshore, enjoy a scenic cruise or simply watch the water action from The Marion. For team building, the Red Shed offers rowing experiences, while inflatables and saunas on the lake provide a fun and picturesque way to unwind. Fun of the frozen-water kind can be found at Corin Forest in Canberra’s local hills, where delegates can be introduced to their first taste of snow for a ski or toboggan ride.

COLLABORATIVE CHALLENGES

Build camaraderie, spark friendly competition and create memorable group bonding moments with Canberra’s rich mix of team challenges. Options include treetop adventures or paintball just minutes from the CBD, or a tailor-made Amazing Race weaving through the city’s landmarks. Indoors, choose escape rooms, axe throwing, mini golf at Holey Moley, Hijinx Hotel game rooms or Kingpin entertainment. Trivia fans can enjoy a quiz inspired by the National Film and Sound Archive’s collection, encouraging creativity, teamwork and plenty of laughter along the way.

CREATIVE RECHARGE

Canberra encourages imagination and hands-on expression through experiences that leave guests feeling inspired and relaxed. Delegates can participate in pottery, drawing, painting or jewellery-making workshops, or step inside the world-class Canberra Glassworks for personalised glassmaking sessions. The National Gallery of Australia’s Art for Wellbeing program offers a calming, reflective environment to explore creativity and mindfulness.

IMPACT AND LEGACY

Through the Canberra Convention Bureau’s partnership with Hands Across Canberra there are many ways your event can give delegates meaningful opportunities to contribute and leave a positive impact. For example, a group could sort baby items for families in need or help reduce food waste by redistributing meals. Trivia fundraisers or a charity walk around Lake Burley Griffin add a fun, social way to support Canberra causes while breaking the ice among participants. These activities not only strengthen team bonds but also align beautifully with organisational ESG goals, allowing conferences to build legacy.

ITINERARY IDEAS

SAMPLE CONFERENCE PROGRAM 4 days | 1,000 delegates

Offering an impressive array of national attractions, dining and entertainment options, outdoor adventure and vibrant precincts, your group will marvel at the richness of Australian capital experiences. Here's a sample of how you could frame your conference itinerary in Canberra.

DAY 1

Delegates fly into Canberra Airport and, after a short 10-minute drive into the city, check into their CBD hotel.

After registering at the National Convention Centre Canberra, delegates enjoy some free time with a relaxing stroll or e-scooter ride 'bridge to bridge' around Lake Burley Griffin before the evening welcome cocktail reception in the Great Hall at Australian Parliament House – one of the few parliaments in the world to offer such exclusive access. Ngunnawal Elders lead a powerful Welcome to Country, recognising Canberra's significance as the 'meeting place'.

DAY 2

Delegates walk the short distance to the National Convention Centre Canberra for a day of conferencing. Content for the day can be enriched with speakers including parliamentarians, ministers, sector experts and thought leaders from government and five leading universities, including the highly ranked Australian National University.

Accompanying partners begin the day with breakfast at one of the many cafés lining Lonsdale Street in Braddon, and go on to explore the city and its cultural icons with a:

- visit to an exhibition at the Australian War Memorial, National Gallery of Australia or National Museum of Australia
- behind-the-scenes tour of Australian Parliament House
- Love Boats ride on Lake Burley Griffin
- wild animal encounter at the National Zoo & Aquarium.

A free night means delegates can explore the city precincts and laneways, stopping for drinks at Bar Rochford, Wilma or King O'Malley's Irish Pub. Dinner could be in one of Canberra's many fine dining inner-city establishments, such as Raku, Inka, Such and Such or Koto, or in a more casual setting at Verity Lane, Akiba or Johnny Gio's Pizza.

DAY 3

Delegates wake early for a brisk walk up Mount Ainslie, delivering unparalleled views of the city, before heading to the conference venue for a day of sessions and the trade exhibition. The morning session is led by Hands Across Canberra where speaker gifts are coordinated by a local charity to leave lasting benefit for those in need.

Partners have the option to:

- tour some of the 40 winery cellar doors all within a 35-minute drive from Canberra
- head to Tidbinbilla Nature Reserve to learn the Indigenous history of the area, while immersing themselves in the native flora and fauna – they will likely see kangaroos, koalas and emus.

Tonight's gala dinner is held at the National Arboretum Canberra, starting with drinks on the balcony at sunset, taking in the expansive views, followed by an exceptional paddock-to-plate dinner. A dance floor awaits those ready to let their hair down.

DAY 4

Delegates attend the final session of the conference, which concludes at midday. They can then enjoy a round of golf at Federal Golf Club, a relaxing wellness treatment at Hale Spa, or a well-deserved drink at a local brewery such as Bentspoke or head to a more intimate wine bar such as Tintino. Afterwards, delegates head home via Canberra Airport – a lower carbon, 'greener' airport.

Canberra enjoys an enviable location, close to some of Australia's most picturesque regions. Hosting an event in Canberra offers delegates access to the award-winning Canberra District Wine Region, the pristine Alpine countryside, the South Coast's stunning beaches and fresh seafood, the magic of the Australian national parks and the rural charm of the Southern Tablelands.

COOL CLIMATE WINE REGION

Decades ago, scientists planted the first vines near Canberra. Today, the Canberra District Wine Region boasts 140 vineyards, over 40 boutique cellar doors, and a reputation for exceptional cool climate wines. The region's standout varietals are shiraz and riesling, with distinctive blends to explore.

Hotel Realm offers bus rides to Shaw Estate in Murrumbateman for a wine tasting and dining experience overlooking the views of the vineyards.

ALPINE ADVENTURES

In just under an hour's drive from Canberra, Corin Forest offers snow play, an alpine slide and ski or snowboard lessons. And just two-and-a-half hours south of Canberra lies Australia's Alpine region, perfect for snow enthusiasts. Ski or snowboard at Perisher, Thredbo, Guthega, Charlotte Pass, or family-friendly Selwyn Snow Resort. Thredbo Alpine Hotel offers function spaces and accommodation with stunning mountain views. When the snow melts, enjoy world-class mountain biking, fishing in clear streams or horseback rides through pristine bushland. Hike to Mount Kosciuszko's peak, hunt for wildflowers or relax at the Yarrangobilly thermal pools.

SOUTH COAST

Take a step back from a busy conference program with a trip to the south coast, just two hours' drive from Canberra. Stretching from Jervis Bay (which is actually part of the ACT) right down the Sapphire Coast is a region of unspoilt coastline, and an undeniably relaxed pace. The coastal entry point for most Canberrans is Batemans Bay where visitors can indulge in fresh, local oysters, meander through historic villages, swim at white sandy beaches, whale watch from the shore, and experience Indigenous culture. For a conference venue with a difference, the architecturally designed Willinga Park at Bawley Point offers sophisticated spaces and high-spec accommodation. The South Coast area boasts more than 30 national parks, as well as marine and nature reserves for an idyllic opportunity to reconnect with nature.

NATIONAL PARKS AND NATURE RESERVES

Canberra is known as the 'bush capital' for a reason – no matter where you are, green spaces or nature reserves are never far away. Close to town, a short but heart-pumping hike up Mount Ainslie or Black Mountain will reward you with panoramic views over the capital in every direction. A bit further afield, Namadgi National Park and Tidbinbilla Nature Reserve offer spots for walking, biking, fishing, animal spotting or exploring archaeological sites dating back over 21,000 years.

SOUTHERN TABLELANDS

Just a short drive from Canberra City, discover charming country towns rich in history. Yass and Bungendore – Australia's Top Small Tourist Town 2025 – are ideal for shopping for local crafts, exploring art or indulging in homemade treats. A stop at Jugiong calls for lunch at The Sir George and a shop at The Long Track Pantry, or for something sweet, head to the Murrumbateman Chocolate Company. Take a short drive to Sutton on the outskirts of Canberra for a freshly baked pastry from Little Sutton Bakehouse or step back in time in Braidwood. Take a moment to marvel at the ancient 400-million-year-old rock formations of Wombeyan Caves.

A cosy, artful luxury boutique hotel in Canberra's NewActon precinct, overlooking Lake Burley Griffin. Inspired by the dry bush capital, our spaces layer reclaimed oak, clay and linen for a distinctly Australian feel. About half our rooms face the lake or bush; others overlook an atrium of Tasmanian tree ferns. You're moments from cafés, galleries and shops, a stroll to Commonwealth Park, and a short drive to Parliament House – plus an easy walk to Floriade in season.

Signature design and architecture. Concrete, cork, clay and reclaimed oak bring warmth to every room and venue, complemented by vintage furnishings, original artworks and crafted finishes. Calming, natural palettes create a relaxed, grounded atmosphere for both work and rest.

Sustainability at the core. We're Bronze EarthCheck accredited and housed within the Six Star NABERS-rated Nishi building. Thoughtful systems – including passive cooling and hydronic heating in apartments – support efficient, low-impact operations. Our philosophy: design beautifully, operate responsibly, and continually improve.
